Featured Speaker, Gina Moore from Joy Community Bible Study in El Dorado, AR

Gina Moore grew up in Texarkana, Texas and attended Ouachita Baptist University. She has called El Dorado, AR home for 31 years. She and her husband, John, have 3 boys, a daughter-in-law, and a two-year-old granddaughter and another due in October. She loves serving through the local church and has been involved in many areas of ministry. In addition, she is on the board of One City Movement, a faith-based organization that is showing El Dorado that the church loves and serves the community. She and her husband have started a non-profit organization that supports 16 churches and their villages in Malawi, Africa. Since 1995, she has taught at conferences, retreats, and weekly Bible studies. She currently teaches a Monday night class for young women and is the Teaching Leader for Joy Community Bible Study (a weekly Bible study for women of all ages, denominations, and backgrounds). She and her husband also serve in the young adult Sunday School department at their church. Gina has a passion for teaching the Bible & engaging women in authentic relationships.

This is a day for women to gather and draw near to the Lord as we actively enjoy the presence of God in our lives, and we want the women in your congregation to join us!
